

American Health & Beauty

American Health and Beauty is a national online health and beauty magazine with information about cosmetic procedures, plastic surgery news, laser medicine news, and doctor listings.

When an interested person has read your bio or clinic information and writes to you, they receive your phone number and web address. We then forward you their name, email, and phone number. They are waiting for a response from you or your office. Personally responding to the inquiry as fast as possible will yield the best results.
